Brighton. A prime position.

Situated on the south coast of England, Brighton is a vibrant and eclectic city and is one of the most attractive office locations outside of Central London.

Imperial House lies in the heart of Brighton City Centre, prominently situated on Queens Road, Brighton Mainline Railway Station is well-connected to the national railway network, with direct services to London Victoria and London Blackfriars stations.

A highly desirable commuter destination, the fastest journey time to Central London is only 54 minutes.

Brighton has excellent communication links to London via the A23/M23 and to the city of Portsmouth via the A27.

Besides the sea

From relaxed seafront lunches to after-work drinks, coffees-to-go, designer shopping and bustling boutiques, there's always something new to discover.

The vibrant North Laine quarter is less than a 5 minute walk, home to over 400 retail outlets comprising independent fashion boutiques, nightclubs and cafés and renowned for its unique street art and cosmopolitan heritage.
